GRANT MUSEUM
OF ZOOLOGY

Skull Biomechanics Workshop

Join us for lunch and an educational visit to the Grant Museum of Zoology, home to some of the world's rarest specimens, at University College London (UCL), to learn about skulls. This work is being undertaken at UCL in conjunction with the Oxford Craniofacial Unit. Dr Mehran Moazen and Prof Susan Evans will run a hands-on workshop where you will be "making skulls" to understand the development of our skulls and role of muscles and soft tissues.

Saturday 13 October 9.45am – 4pm
